LOST IN HELL.

Ere I would drift down the dismal abyss,
And Join in the despairing tune
Of immortal souls that know no bliss.

Presently I descended, drifted on, on down,

Where the walling the flames were fluating around;
Deep down into the brimstone sea
I saw some souls I didn't expect to

And O! what a weeping and walling I heard down there
From men of every degree and race;
I saw misery, remove and antil despair stamped on every face.

I heard the whirring of demons' wings.
And saw the fire from their mouths stream.
I felt the formenting, awful stings Of Satan in that dreary dream.

List, Comrades! I'll not speak your Fight Salan to shun that horrible face.
Accept the Christ and escape the flames Ere it be too late.

ERNE WINS OVER M'FADDEN.
New York, May 9.—There was a large crowd to-night at the Lennox Athletic Club to witness the 25-round encounter between Frank Erne, the Buffalo light weight, and George McFadden, of New York, who recently lowered the colors of Jee Gans, the Clever Baltimorean.
After 25 rounds of hard fighting the referee decided the bout on points, and gave the contest to Erne.

THE GREAT FOOT RACE.

New York, May 2.—Fourteen men remained in the seventy-two hour foot race at the Grand Central Palace up to midnight to night. It was somewhat of a monotonous contest all through the day and but a small crowd was in attendance.

By a o'clock to-night Edwards, who had been lesing ground during the latter part of the day, gave up the contest. He left the race with 92 miles and 4 lars to his credit.
